

February 20, 1985

think from one year's experience we should not jump into changing the course that we're on until we've got a little more experience in it. I believe that the process that we are going through with the budget bills and then the A bills and we have always, in the last two or three years, the Appropriations Committee and the Revenue Committee together, before we make final judgment, present to the body the total picture and what the rates would be for various levels of that spending process. From that you can then make your decision of whether you want to raise the rates or whether you want to leave them where you are and will help you make the decision on what you want to support or not support. I would hope that the, and there is no question in my mind that the resolution, while it was well-intended and perhaps did function for maybe once fairly good, has outlived its usefulness and that we should do away with that, but the remainder of the process and as I understand Senator Warner, our process will continue only without the adoption of the resolution and I support and urge this body to do the same. Thank you, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: Thank you, Senator Carsten. Senator Haberman, do you wish recognition?

SENATOR HABERMAN: Mr. President, members of the body, I personally have been working on other things and I'm sure that there's some other members here, maybe not, but I'm quite confused. I would like to ask Senator DeCamp to get up and in the simplest terms he can, explain just exactly what the rule change does. Will you do that? All right, Senator Warner, would you please get up and just real simply say what exactly does the rule change do?

PRESIDENT: Senator Haberman...may we have order in the Chamber, please (gavel) so that we can hear Senator Warner finally define what we have before us. Go ahead, Senator.

SENATOR HABERMAN: Just real simple.

SENATOR WARNER: Senator Haberman, what the proposed rule change does, it leaves everything that is required in Rule 8 in place except the part that the Legislature as a whole would adopt a resolution stating what the total appropriations are going to be.

SENATOR HABERMAN: And what does that mean?